DISCOVER YOUR HOME'S COST SAVING POTENTIAL

The first step to saving energy is finding out what is consuming the energy in your home. It only takes a few minutes to discover your cost savings potential.

- Answer questions online about your home, appliances and energy use.
- The free energy profile will provide a comprehensive analysis of your home's energy use, indicate how you can save energy and will identify the cost savings.

You may be eligible for a free conservation kit.

Big energy savings can begin by making small changes in and around your home. The energy-efficient items contained in the kit help to conserve energy and reduce utility bills.

After you complete the Home Energy Profile, you may qualify for a free Washington Gas Energy Conservation Kit.
